No part of this document is permitted to be reproduced or distributed for commercial purposes. The following pages are presented for self-educational and research purposes only.

We value your respect and appreciation for the art of penmanship and the hard work that the individuals who originally contributed to this document endured.

Script Advertising for Business Colleges

It is well known that fine penmanship is admired by nearly all classes of persons. It is appreciated by more people than is painting or sculpture.

This is especially true as regards young persons, the very class whose attention business schools desire to attract. Many of the leading business educators and professional penmen of today were, while young, attracted to the business college through penmanship.

Probably the reader of this will remember the influence fine penmanship had over him when he was a boy.

It behooves those who teach good writing, and wish to attract the attention of those who are desirous of improving their writing and securing a practical education, to reach them through the attractive medium of good penmanship.

Type is too universal to be striking, too plain to be attractive, hence the attractiveness of script because of its scarcity and gracefulness.

There are many kinds of script—best, good, bad and indifferent. You know which attracts and which repels. In this, as in all things else, the best is the cheapest, and we feel quite sure that there is no better than that which we are offering.

You should have the benefit of this business-bringing, inexpensive advertising.

BEAUTY AND LEGIBILITY

There is need for a script cut that is "as plain as print," and as graceful as offhand penmanship. The styles presented herewith combine in an extraordinary degree the essentials of legibility and beauty. Certainly never before has such a variety of timely, attractive, and appropriate cuts been offered to the public.

School catalogues, journals and other advertising matter can be greatly enhanced by the use of these cuts.

TERMS

Cash should accompany all orders. Every cut we sell represents a direct outlay of money and time on our part and it is therefore not our custom to open accounts, bill and charge script cuts. Kindly do not overlook remittance so as to save delay.

We prepay carriage charges. Due to the constant changes in cost of materials and labor, the prices in this catalog are subject to change without notice.

"THE PROGRESS OF PENMANSHIP"

Is a large design 22x28 inches in size, presenting the history of penmanship in a nutshell. Beginning with the year 1500, it presents each style of writing used during the different stages of its progress down to our own day, each style recording its own history.

The historical part occupies the upper central portion of the design, while in the lower central part is represented, also in script, philosophy and definitions as regards writing, representing the author's best thought on these subjects after his twenty years' study and practice of the art. At the extreme top of the design is lettering and pen drawing, and at the bottom, lettering and flourishing. On the right hand side is a beautiful female figure in the stipple and pen drawing typifying aspiration and the future, while on the left side of the design is another female figure typifying achievement and the past; all blending most harmoniously and effectively. On account of the instructive historical feature and great beauty of the design it is of permanent value, and most appropriate for hanging in the office, or wherever art and good penmanship are appreciated. The original is valued at $1,000.00. Securely sent in tube, postpaid, for $1.00.

"PROGRESS" is a large design known as C. P. Zaner's masterpiece in flourishing. It represents an eagle, forceful and lifelike, winging himself through intricate curves and branches with much energy. It is on the finest plate paper 22x28 inches, and the original of this design hangs on the wall of the Zanerian College, being valued at $1,000.00.

This design also makes a very appropriate prize to present to the student making the most improvement in penmanship. Hundreds have been used for that purpose. All who admire pen flourishing should have this design. When you see it, you will soon decide that it is worth framing. Securely mailed in tube, postpaid, for $1.00.

BUSINESS COLLEGE DIPLOMAS

The diploma is simple, plain and classic. We can furnish it in two sizes, 10½x16, or 16x21.

Single Column Script Cuts

(Size about 2½ in. wide)

The cuts on the following three pages are designated single column cuts because they will go in a single column, which is about 2½ inches. We can furnish promptly all the cuts illustrated herewith. If, however, you do not find listed what is desired, let us know exactly what your wishes are and we shall be glad to quote prices. Cuts made to order, however, are higher in price than those listed herewith.

Ornamental writing of this kind attracts all who would like to attain excellence in penmanship.

The object of having one of these ornamental notes appear in your circular or catalog would be to show what skill can be reached with the pen and to secure attention.

It is not the intention to convey the idea that they represent practical writing, but instead ornamental writing. Many a student has been drawn to the business college through a specimen of ornamental penmanship.
